Investment risks

For complete information on risks, refer to the legal documents. The value of investments and any income will fluctuate (this may partly be the result of exchange rate fluctuations) and investors may not get back the full amount invested. Debt instruments are exposed to credit risk which is the ability of the borrower to repay the interest and capital on the redemption date. Changes in interest rates will result in fluctuations in the value of the fund. The fund uses derivatives (complex instruments) for investment purposes, which may result in the fund being significantly leveraged and may result in large fluctuations in the value of the fund.

Fund Strategy

The Invesco US Investment Grade Corporate Bond Fund seeks to outperform the Bloomberg Barclays US Credit Index over a full market cycle. The Fund leverages the full scope and scale of Invesco Fixed Income's global research platform to generate excess returns via an actively managed top-down and bottom-up process. Specifically, the Fund seeks to generate alpha through security selection, asset allocation, and risk modulation within a risk-controlled relative value framework. The Fund primarily invests in US Dollar denominated corporate debt across the primary credit sectors including financials, industrials, and utilities. The Fund does not generally rely upon material interest rate positioning in the execution of its primary investment strategy.

Past performance does not predict future returns. Data points are as at month end.
