Investment risks

For complete information on risks, refer to the legal documents. The value of investments and any income will fluctuate (this may partly be the result of exchange rate fluctuations) and investors may not get back the full amount invested. Debt instruments are exposed to credit risk which is the ability of the borrower to repay the interest and capital on the redemption date. Changes in interest rates will result in fluctuations in the value of the fund. As a large portion of the fund is invested in less developed countries, you should be prepared to accept significantly large fluctuations in the value of the fund. As this fund is invested in a particular country, you should be prepared to accept greater fluctuations in the value of the fund than for a fund with a broader investment mandate. Investments in debt instruments which are of lower credit quality may result in large fluctuations in the value of the fund. Investment in Indian securities may be restricted due to the unavailability of the relevant quota.

Fund Strategy

The fund invests predominantly in local currency assets such as corporate bonds, government securities and money market instruments. The team employs a bottom up credit selection process as well as a macro top-down approach focused on capitalising on opportunities that arise from changes in interest rates. The fund is constructed with the objective to deliver income and long-term capital appreciation.
